

Concord New Hampshire

March 11, 1834

W<sup>m</sup> L. Garrison

25

Dear Sir

My purpose in writing you this morning is to ask a few questions from the strongest possible argument against the Fugitive Slave Law upon what points would you base it and how would you state the most explicitly. I am sure I'm that the arguments this subject will be numerous but my purpose is to get them all reduced to 2 or 3 or 4 distinct heads. I know not the man that can do it better than yourself. And should it be consistent with your purpose to grat this request you will greatly oblige one who trusts he is a friend of freedom.

Most Respy<sup>r</sup> Yours

A. A. Noble